

Steve Nicol has more than 25 years of consulting experience in socio-economic analysis, economic development, opportunity and business development, strategic planning and community consultation. The majority of his assignments have been in relation to the major resource sectors, primarily tourism, minerals, forestry, energy and agriculture. He is one of the most qualified economic development consultants in the province, having established several economic development offices from the ground and providing specialized research, policy and program assistance to more than 60 organizations.

Steve graduated from University of British Columbia with a Masters of Business Administration and has been registered as a Certified Management Consultant with the Canadian Association of Management Consultants since 1989. He is also a long-time member of the Economic Development Association of BC.

Steve is also the principal of Lions Gate Consulting Inc. is a Vancouver-based management consulting firm providing economics and economic development consulting to clients in Western Canada.

If you wish to discuss matters related to our Economic Development or Business and Organizational Planning service areas, please contact Steve.